Stadia Engineering Associates, Inc. was contracted to layout an indoor lacrosse field, the newest addition to the Mohegan Sun Arena, a 10,000 seat multi-purpose arena that houses 30,000 square feet of exhibition space. The field was constructed for the New England Black Wolves, the state's new lacrosse team that will be playing at Mohegan Sun since their relocation from Philadelphia.

Scope of work included analyzation of CAD drawings provided by Mohegan Sun, and a two man field crew for on-site layout and calculations in order to fit the segmented panels from Sports Resource Group into the Arena, while still providing enough space for movement between the new field and the existing bleacher seating. Once the field was marked out on the floor, Stadia assisted the on-site facilities crew to fine tune the panel placement for ease in future event installations.
